Court News

Busy Week for J. P. Lindsay, with Some Interesting Cases

Harold R. Cline appeared in the Provincial Police Court in Vulcan on the 7th of July, charged with the theft of six pigs in December 1918, the property of Thos. Clifford. He was also charged with escaping from Provincial Police cell at Vulcan, on the 6th January, 1919; stealing one stock saddle in October, 1918, the property of Jas. N. Dew; breaking into Dominion Express office at Kirkcaldy and stealing certain express parcels, and also with burning down a barn on 27th June, 1918, the property of F. W. Galloway at Champion. Evidence was submitted for the prosecution which was of such character that the presiding Justice committed the accused to stand trial at the next court of Competent Jurisdiction on all charges.

Cline was arrested in the State of Montana upon information supplied by Corp. Allen of the Provincial Police, at Vulcan. The accused came into Alberta, waiving his rights under the extradition treaty.

Clarence Galloway appeared in Provincial Police Court on the 7th July to answer a charge of theft of six pigs. Evidence for the prosecution went to show that Galloway was mixed up with Harold Cline with the theft and disposal of the pigs, belonging to Mr. Clifford, of Champion. Accused was remanded until the next court of Competent Jurisdiction, to be held in Lethbridge, and was remanded on bail in the sum of $5,000.

Wesley F. Barnes was arrested on the 8th July by Corporal Allen, of the Provincial Police, at Vulcan, charged with assisting Harold Cline to escape from Custody. Cline will be remembered to have made his sensational escape from the police cell at Vulcan about the beginning of last January. Since that time Corp. Allen has been working on the case.

Chautauqua Meeting

Guarantors Meet to Adopt Plans for Coming Attraction

A meeting of the guarantors of the Vulcan Chautauqua was held at the offices of Flood, Whicher & Elves on Monday evening and a fair representation was present. Mr. D. L. Carlson, of the Dominion Chautauqua Association, was present. The organization was formed and the following officers and committees were appointed to manage the affairs: Chairman—E. M. Clark; Secretary-Treas. G. M. Whicher; Advertising or Publicity Committee—G. M. Whicher, F. D. McDonnell and M. L. Gordon; Grounds Committee—W. J. Jennejohn, J. Dewey and A. J. Flood. Tickets Committee—E. M. Clark, F. A. Elves, J. A. Lindsay and E. J. Charters. It was decided by motion that the Secretary be instructed to write a letter to each of the guarantors, impressing upon them the necessity and importance of selling the tickets. Tenders will be requested for the rights of concessions on the grounds. It was decided that each guarantor be responsible for the sale of ten tickets, and that the sale open on Monday, July 14th and closes on Saturday Aug. 2nd and that only 550 Season Tickets be sold. The dates for holding the Chautauqua will be from August 11th to August 16th inclusive and an aggressive campaign will at once be started and continued to make the affair a huge success.

AN INVITATION.

Editor Advocate:—

Dear Sir,—The Mayor and Council of the Town of High River wish to extend for 1919 an invitation to all tributary Towns and Villages and all local associations connected therewith to make use of the Municipal Park for picnic purposes or other gatherings. It is requested that the date on which the Park might be desired on be arranged with the Secretary of the town, so that no confusion may result.

Yours truly,
C. A. GIGOT,
Secretary-Treas.

SAD ACCIDENT.

The little eighteen months old girl of Mr. and Mrs. Bert McPhall suffered a serious accident on Thursday evening last when her hand became caught in a pump-jack and the thumb and two fingers were completely severed. She was rushed to the office of Dr. Knowles, who gave her the best attention possible, but she suffers the loss of three members of her right hand.

High River will celebrate Peace Day on July 19th in good old style. The events include baseball, lacrosse, trap shooting, races, tug of war, parade of automobiles and floats bucking contest. In the evening a Community Sing will be held, old time songs and patriotic choruses.

Twelve teams with scrapers and plows are engaged this week in diverting a flow of water from Highwood River to the Little Bow in order to give the farmers along the line to Garmangay a supply of water for their stock. This supply was cut off last year when a force of men rebuilt the old dam near John Massey's place. Now they are obliged to undo the work of last year. The continued drought is responsible for this condition.

General von Hindenburg, former Chief of the German staff, has declared that he is responsible for the acts of German main headquarters since August, 1916, and he intimates that he is willing to substitute for the Kaiser in the demand made by the Allies for the trial of the German Emperor before a tribunal of Judges from Britain, America, France and Italy. No doubt he will have his desire gratified but the Kaiser cannot escape. All the principals will be tried for their awful crimes committed since August 1914.

Baseball

Vulcan Beats Barons in One of the Best Games of the Season

BARONS VS. VULCAN.

On Friday evening Barons and Vulcan met in one of the best games of the season, when Barons went down before the Vulcans to the score of 3 to 1. Webb and Edwards worked like clock work, Webb holding Barons to only one hit. In the first inning, with two men on, Edwards drove a clean one past right and when the dust had settled two runs were scored and Edwards was comfortably holding down third sack. Goldman singled and scored Edwards. That was the last of the scoring until the seventh when Barons garnered in one run. Juney pitched fairly well for Barons, but it appeared that the fans could get his "goat" quite easily. Webb was in good form and at no time during the game was worried. He had good support, only one error being recorded. Berg secured the only hit for Barons off Webb. Gray, Edwards, Sigaby and Goldman were strong on the willow and each had a nice clean hit to his credit. Vulcan secured six hits off Juney. Umpire Greenfields, of Calgary, gave good satisfaction and was impartial in his decisions.

Batteries — Juney and Nelson; Webb and Edwards.

NOTES ON THE GAME.

It is real nice to see the way the Vulcan boys work together. Every one is a rooter and you can hear them at it all the time. That's the old game boys.

How'd y' like to ride on that! My such a swat as Edwards got at the old pill. It was absolutely a clean three-base hit and with two men on. The old baloon went up right then and there. And then Goldman's single scored Edwards.

Juney pitched well, considering that he does not claim that as his right position. He had lots of speed and quite a little bit of "juice" on the ball.

McMillan played right garden for Vulcan. He pulled down a nice drive and got in connection with the ball once or twice when at bat.

Shroder was in right field in place of Torgerson and Goldman was on second. Buckley was out of town.

BASEBALL NOTES.

The Southern Alberta Baseball League is practically abandoned. With Stavely first out of the running, Barons and Champion have decided to play their clubs in tournaments from which the Vulcans have been barred. The local management will book and play independent ball from this time on without regard to the adopted schedule of the league.

See the New Jaeger Shirts which have just arrived at A. G. Spooner's.

WILLARD—DEMPSEY FIGHT.

The Willard—Dempsey fight for the championship of the world, held at Toledo, Ohio on Friday, the 11th inst. was a decided disappointment to the sporting public in general as none thought that the same would be of short duration. Willard received a blow in the first round which practically decided the encounter, and Dempsey battered him about at will for the next two rounds, when Willard's seconds threw up the fight. It looked to an outsider as though the pure was the only attraction for Willard and for this he was willing to sacrifice his title and take what punishment might be given him in satisfaction of his contract. He certainly made no fight becoming a champion. About 40,000 people paid good money to see the farce. Willard was guaranteed $100,000.00, win or lose or draw. Some price for nine minutes of fighting. Most any of us would be glad to take a licking for a like amount.

OF FOREST RESERVE, CAL-

NOTICE TO ANGLERS.

A short time ago a notification was issued by the Superintendent of Fisheries closing to fishing the tributaries of the Highwood River. This, however, did not affect the legality of fishing on these tributary streams inside the Rocky Mountain Forest Reserve, for in this Reserve the Fishing Regulations are administered by the Dominion Forestry Officers under the Forest Reserves and Parks Acts. In order to avoid inevitable confusion, which was bound to arise, the Forestry Branch has taken action for the closing of these streams, tributary to the Highwood River, which are wholly or in part within the Forest Reserve. Such streams are now closed to fishing by order of the Minister of the Interior, and fishermen are, therefore, warned that so far as the Highwood River basin is concerned the only waters where fishing is legal is in the main Highwood River itself.

PESSIMISM.

It's a long jump, and a hard one, from optimism to pessimism, but there are occasions when it is necessary to make the leap and do it fearlessly and with courage of your convictions, and as regards the present and future outlook for prospective crops in this particular district, it is our turn to make the jump. We have been hoping to evade the task, and have been praying fervently on our knees, that the good providence would support our views by drenching us and our suffering fields with the much-needed rains, but as such seems not to be our lot this particular year we will have to be satisfied and philosophical and try to believe that conditions must be for the best, but for reasons unknown to us. There are some things and conditions that we can't figure and this western weather is one of them, but if we could it would be too easy. Even Foster can no longer be relied upon and many of our good church-going farmers are going broke following his predictions. It's a great game if you don't weaken, but a poor one for a man with a fluttering heart and whose strength and well being depends upon regular and sound sleep. It's hard to close your eyes now to the fact that "we ain't lookin' fur grain, we're just tryin' to raise feed," and we can't even get good sound sleep worrying about this. So what's the use, I have seen two persons this last week who were in much worse conditions. Go to Montana, if you want to see real dry weather. They came from there and are responsible for the assertions that there is not even enough water in that country for human beings to drink, let alone cattle, which are dying by the roadside for want of water and feed. They came over here to settle and "get away from Montana, and think, comparatively speaking, that things look good over here. That's some consolation, for them anyway, but it's poor lubrication for us. Incidentally they expect to pick up cheap land in this "neck of the woods" if the dry spell continues, and perhaps they will, because we all can't be sports, and some of us will let go and look for another location, where they will perhaps be confronted with other misfortunes which are also unexpected. Such is life. We were born to expect some trials and tribulations in this world and if we were not of the materials to withstand them, it were better we had quit before we were grown up. If our affairs went along too smoothly life would be uninteresting because of its monotony. Times, conditions and interests are only measured by comparisons, and we can't judge a good thing until we know what its opposite is like. So let's buck up. Take things as they come, and hope for the best. It's a long road without a turn and when we get straightened out and on the right path it will only be a short-way home. Smile, even if it hurts your face.

HIGH PRICES TO PREVAIL.

A bigger question than peace treaties or the League of Nations to many of us is the continuance in peace times of the war-time scale of prices, thinks a Western editor, and the serious concern about this in the East was shown when twenty-six Democratic members of the Massachusetts legislature not long ago cabled this message to President Wilson: "The citizens of the United States want you home to help reduce the high cost of living, which we consider far more important than the League of Nations." In February some authorities saw indications that prices were beginning to decline, but to-day the evidence, as displayed in the news columns and interpreted on the editorial pages, seems to show that prices are again tending upward and that there is no immediate prospect of any conspicuous lowering of the colors of the ancient foe known as the "High Cost of Living." But "what the eating sleeping and dressing world wants to know, is whether the cost of necessities is justified." The consumer finds it hard to understand why, six months after the end of fighting, prices, instead of taking a fall are forever rising.

The whole-sale price-level of basic commodities, based on the average for 1913 as 100, was 197 for the month of February this year, 200 for March and 203 for April. Retail food-prices reached their peak last December with slight declines in January and February, and advanced in the two succeeding months. Food prices were 18 per cent, higher last April than in April, 1918, and 85 per cent, higher last April than in April 1918, and 85 per cent, higher than in April 1913.

Such are present prices. What of the future? The Information and Education Service of the United States Department of Labor has been trying to answer this very question by sending out queries to a large number of business men of all classes and in all parts of the country. In general the replies indicate "a very large sentiment that there will not be any immediate reduction in prices, and that the decline will be very gradual."

SOME PROFIT-SHARING EXPERIMENTS.

The whole world is looking for some equitable and adequate solution of the laboring problem and profit-sharing experiments are being tried in different places. The Willy-Overland Co., of Toledo, O., announced that it would divide its profits with its employees on a fifty-fifty basis; and the first division of the profits gave each employee a bonus equal to about eight per cent, on his salary, and it was understood that there would be four of these dividends a year. This was such a pretty fair increase, more than thirty-two per cent, probably in one year. And yet the dividend had hardly been paid before the workers went out on an obstinate strike for a 44-hour week instead of a 48-hour week. The International Harvester Co. has also adopted a system of issuing profit-sharing certificates to its 32,000 employees. It also has a pension system and has instituted a shop's board, to consider any suggestions or complaints by any of the employees, and on this board the employer and employees have an equal voice. We presume the employees appoint their own representatives to the board. In London, Eng., Sir W. P. Hartley, the well-known Primitive Methodist, is one of the pioneers in profit-sharing and this year he announced that every worker who had been with the firm twelve months would be given a week's holiday, with full pay, during the summer. Mr. W. C. Good, the well-known agriculturist, testified the other day that the man who worked his farm did so on a two-thirds share of the crop, which in a good year will certainly mean a pretty fair return for his labor. The principle underlying all profit sharing is that the workman is investing his working capital, which earns dividends just as does the other capital invested. The justice of this claim is now generally admitted.

The Calgary Gas Company will drill for gas in the Monarch district where there is supposed to be a big supply of gas. The present supply at Bow Island is not sufficient to supply demands of consumers.

Regular transportation of merchandise by aeroplane between Paris and Brussels has become a success. In Canada it is only a matter of time when the airship will be utilized for transportation purposes.

The C.P.R. is offering a trophy valued at $500 for the best half bushel of spring wheat exhibited at the International Soil Products Exposition to be held at Kansas City, Mo., from Sept. 24 to Oct. 4. Last year H. B. Sheeley, of High River, nearly won first prize.

Profiteering on the part of hotel keepers in Calgary during the fair was not very prevalent but one manager was charged with raising the rates from $1.00 per day to $1.50 and was severely reprimanded for doing so by Col. Sanders, who said it was a disgrace and shame to the city. The visitors were invited to come to the city during the fair and then they were deliberately fleeced. Such men should have their licenses taken from them.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

In Ontario the Medical council regarded with suspicion medical men who wrote 100 prescriptions per month, and was horrified on learning that one doctor wrote 483 prescriptions in one month. In Alberta the government places the limit of 100 a week on all medical men. The Alberta limit seems to be somewhat high.

THE TAX RECOVERY ACT.

The various Municipal Acts in the Province provide for forfeiture proceedings being taken against land on which taxes are in arrears. By these proceedings the title to the land is forfeited to the Municipality, subject to redemption within a year and if the land is not redeemed then it may be sold by the Municipality. This method of Tax Enforcement has proved to be both expensive and tedious, as it requires the making out of a Tax Enforcement Return; Abstracts of title are required to be secured from the Land Titles Office for all lands on the said Tax Enforcement Return; notices have to be sent by registered mail at least sixty days prior to date of the Court at which the Tax Enforcement Return is to be confirmed to all parties having any interest in the land and notice of Court has to be advertised in the local newspaper and in the Alberta Gazette. After the Tax Enforcement Return has been confirmed additional Abstracts have to be obtained, two more sets of notices have to be issued and advertisements again inserted in local newspapers and Alberta Gazette, giving date of final forfeiture. If the land is finally sold, it is at least fourteen months from the date of commencement of forfeiture proceedings before the Municipality realizes all its taxes, and if, as frequently happens in urban municipalities the land cannot be sold at all, the municipality does not receive its taxes and in addition is out a large amount spent in obtaining Abstracts, printing and mailing special notice, advertising date of Court, advertising date of final forfeiture and so on.

Because these proceedings were so expensive, burdensome and unsatisfactory the Hon. A. G. McKay, Minister of Municipal Affairs at the last session of the Legislature, introduced legislation under the name of the Tax Recovery Act, which will greatly simplify and reduce the expense of the Tax Enforcement proceedings in future.

Under the Tax Recovery Act lands on which taxes are in arrears on the first day of July of the year following that in which they are levied, are liable to be sold for taxes and the Treasurer, Assessor or Collector, as the case may be, of each city, town, village or municipal district shall, on or before the fourteenth day of August in each year submit to the Mayor or Reeve of the Municipality, a list of all lands that are liable to be sold for taxes. The Mayor or Reeve, on satisfying himself that the list is correct, gives the proper official a warrant authorizing him to advertise for sale all the lands included in such list. Such sale is required to be advertised once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper or newspapers published in the municipality, or if there is no newspaper circulating therein in a newspaper circulating in the municipality. Such advertisement must be published not less than six weeks before the date of sale and is required to contain a list of the lands to be sold. In addition to the publication of the list as above mentioned, there shall be published once during each week after the period of two weeks above mentioned, but prior to date of sale, a notice of such sale and a statement as to where the list of lands may be seen. Notice of the sale is also required to be published in two issues of the Alberta Gazette, the last issue to appear not less than two weeks before the date of sale. No lands, the title to which is vested in the Crown can be included in such sale.

Lands so offered for sale shall be sold to the highest bidder, and if they cannot be sold for the full amount of the arrears of taxes and costs they may be sold for a lesser sum, subject however, to a minimum value that may be placed upon them by the Council of the Municipality. This minimum value shall not be advertised, but shall be treated by the Treasurer as the upset selling price. Any lands which are not sold at such sale shall be included in the list of lands offered for sale the following year. The purchaser at the Tax Sale will only be required to pay at date of sale, the amount due the Municipality for arrears of taxes and costs even if the land is sold for more than the arrears of taxes and costs.

As soon as the sale is completed, a Return showing the lands sold will be sent to the Registrar of the Land Titles Office for the Registration District in which the land is situated, who shall register against such land a Memorandum of Sale, so that any prospective purchaser or money lender may be protected.

All lands sold at a tax sale are subject to redemption within a period of one year from the date of sale. Where lands sold are not redeemed by the end of the year, all parties shown by the record of the Land Titles Office to be interested in any way in the land, will forthwith be notified of that fact by registered mail, and after a period of sixty days has elapsed from the expiration of the redemption period, a Return of the unredeemed lands will be submitted to a Judge of the District Court, who, on being satisfied that due notice has been given and that all matters in connection with the proceedings are regular, shall make such order as to transfer as he deems advisable and in accordance with the order the Treasurer shall then issue transfer to any tax sale purchaser, on receiving from him payment of the balance outstanding, and such transfer shall entitle the purchaser to an indefeasible title, except as to claims of the Municipality or the Crown. Any monies paid to the Municipality over and above the taxes due, shall be paid to the persons declared by an Order of a Judge of the District Court to be entitled thereto.

By comparing the procedure under the Tax Recovery Act with the provisions in regard to Tax Enforcement that have hitherto been in force it will be noted that under the Tax Recovery Act, it is only necessary for the Municipality to obtain Abstracts of Title and to send notice by registered mail, in connection with the lands which are sold and not redeemed, whereas under the forfeiture proceedings that have been in force under our Municipal Acts, it is necessary to obtain Abstracts of Title of all lands in which taxes are in arrears, to send notice by registered mail to all parties shown to be interested, then during the year allowed for redemption after the land has been forfeited, it is necessary for another set of Abstracts to be secured and two more notices to be sent to each person shown to be interested in the land, and after all this trouble and expense the Municipality in many cases is unable to collect any taxes whatever.

The Tax Recovery Act provides for the immediate sale of land for taxes, without waiting for a year as required by the forfeiture proceedings. If the land can be sold at all, this brings in the taxes immediately. If it cannot be sold, very little expense has been incurred. In addition to making provision whereby Municipalities may obtain their taxes more quickly, the Tax Recovery Act provides a simple method whereby action may be taken at an expense that will not be more than one-third of what it was under the forfeiture proceedings set forth in different Municipal Acts, and if the land is worth the taxes the Municipality gets results quickly, while if the land will not sell, the Municipality has not been put to any great expense.

The provisions of the Tax Recovery Act will come into force in the year 1920, and on and after the year 1920 the Tax Enforcement Proceedings provided for in the Municipal Acts will cease to be operative except insofar as proceedings instituted prior to the end of the current year are concerned.

A FEW SMILES.

Preparedness for the Fisherman.—“By the way, Mary, did you put my cooking outfit in that basket? I'll want to fry some fish for lunch.”
“Yes, dear, and you'll find a tin of sardines in there, too.”—Life.

For Government Regulations.—“I presume you're mighty glad the war is over.”

“Well, I don't jes' know about dat,” answered Mandy. “Cose I've glad to have my Sam back an' all dat, but I jes' know I ain't never gwine t' get money from him so regular as I did while he wuz in de army an' de Government wuz handlin' his financial affairs.”—Detroit Free Press.

Safety First.—Our little boy was sent to the store by his mother for a half dozen eggs and some sugar. When he returned his mother discovered he had brought the sugar, but instead of the eggs he had bought lemons. She asked, “Didn't I tell you to bring eggs and sugar?”

“Yes, you did, mother,” answered the little fellow, “but I was afraid the eggs would break so I got lemons.”—A. W. B. in the Chicago Tribune.

Missing Her.—A girl once sang a song where she asked, in the first line of the chorus, “I wonder if he'll miss me?” and she sang it with more force than expression or sweetness; in fact, she was slightly off the key. As she sang the first verse there was a restless shuffling of feet, the chorus brought out a buzz of voices.

The second verse did not add to the interest but increased the noise. She reached the chorus in safety, and once more noisily inquired, “I wonder if he'll miss me?” A man in the gallery said, “If he does he never ought to be trusted with a gun again.”—London Blyth.

NOT IN THE PROFITEERING CLASS.

The testimony of Mr. C. Rice-Jones, general manager of the United Grain Growers Grain company, before the Ottawa cost of living committee shows that on most of its enterprise the company has made a substantial profit. In handling coal, flour and apples, it made 7.05 per cent. gross. On other supplies there was a profit of 11.51 on machinery, 21.06, and on lumber 11.49. But when his testimony reached the publishing end of the company's affairs, there was a different story. The loss due to the Grain Growers' Guide was stated to be $108,000. The newspaper business seldom needs to worry about being included in the profiteering class.

Everything changes. Even higher prices. They get higher.

It's an awful pill, Heinie, but it will cure what ails you.

Perhaps after all we don't realize fully the terrible conditions in Germany. It is said the German small boys are left without circuses, all the menageries having been eaten up during the war.

IS FRANCE RUINED IN VICTORY?

The terrific price in life and wealth paid by France for victory is now causing grave concern among her statesmen and publicists, who hope that the Allies who stood by the Republic in her darkest hours will crown their efforts by helping her to rise to a firm footing again. Since Germany can not pay the Allies the cost of the war, then it must fall on the victors, for somebody must pay it, and it has been actually figured out that the French, with their smaller population, may have to pay more per capita for the war than the Germans. Thus far the French have preserved a dignified silence on this subject, while the Germans have filled the world with a din of groans and shrieks that they were being ruined by the very moderate demand that they pay to restore the wanton damage they had needlessly and lawlessly done. The Teutonic outcry very properly leads the French to state their side of the matter. A French financial authority writes in the Echo de Paris as follows:

"Our friends and allies must not forget us. Our situation is a difficult one, and our fighting comrades command the only solution. The financial team-work of the war period must be continued. Through her habitual efforts France will attain to her former prosperity and rise from the ruin and exhaustion of war with this co-operation. But if left to herself France will inevitably fail. New advances must be made by Great Britain and the United States in order to avoid delay in the economic relief of the republic."

More bluntly the Paris Matin avers:

"The war cost France $63,000,000,000. Of the 25 billion demanded by the Allies from Germany, the share of France will amount to about 15 billion. Consequently France will have to produce from her own resources about $50,000,000,000. According to Mr. Bertillon's calculations the war has reduced France to a population of 35,000,000. On these 35,000,000 of the French people the war cost of $50,000,000,000 is imposed."

"Germany has not been invaded, and her industries can be immediately put in running order. Her Minister of Foreign Affairs has said officially that the German nation expended $34,000,000,000 in the war. When the indemnity of 25 billion is added to this figure, the total amounts to $59,000,000,000. The population of Germany to-day is approximately 68,000,000,000.

But Germany counts on the annexation of a part of Austria, which will mean a German population of at least 80,000,000."

Le Matin consequently points out that the war will cost the French more per capita than it will cost the Germans.

SPOTTIE

Now Spottie was a pal of mine, a ginger headed bloke, An ever-lastin' gas-bag and as stubborn as a mule. He gave us all the hump, he did, before it came to war, A spoutin' all his bits of French, what no one asked him for. He says to me, "old pal," he says, "You won't stand half a chance When we get in conversation with them demoneselles in France." I says to him, "You hold your fice," He says to me "All right, mon-sieur, Don't hurt yourself, mon cherie aime, so long, au revoir."

Well we got out marchin' orders and you bet we wasn't slow A singin' songs of Tipperary, it's a long, long way to go. On the transport, how he swanked it, with his parle vousing airs, And I nearly knocked his head off, 'cause he said "Il mal de mer." When we landed what a beano, how them froggies laughed and cried And I could see old Spottie swellin' fit to bust himself with pride. He was a-blowin' of 'em kisses and a-shoutin' "Vive la France," Till the Sergeant Major copped him, and he said "Quel mave a chance."

Well they didn't keep us waitin', where we went to no one knows. But it wasn't like the fightin' that you see at picture shows. We had days of hell together, till they told us to retire, And Spottie's flow of language set the water cart on fire. Him and me was mighty lucky, for two-thirds of us was dead, With their freasy black marins, and their shrapnel overhead. And every time that one would miss us, when the fire was murderous hot, Old Spottie shouted "Encore, encore," —That's French for rotten shot.

At last there came a time when we got 'em on the go, And him and me was a-fightin' at a little place called Veau.

We was sharin' half a fag, we was, use share and share about, When I feels him crawl towards me, and he said, "Oh mate I'm out." His eyes they couldn't see, and they never will no more, But his twisted mouth it whispered, "So long matey, au revoir." You don't know what it means to me for him and me was pals, And if I had him near me now you could keep your fancy gals. But he's spoutin' French up yonder, and it's no good feelin' sore, But God knows how I miss him, so long Spottie au revoir.

On the evening of July 2nd at the manse, Vulcan, the nuptials of W. V. Adair, of Hearnleigh and Edith M. Braunworth of Brant were celebrated, the Rev. A. R. Schrag officiating. The young couple were unattended. They will take up their home in Hearnleigh where they are very favorably known, and the recipients of many tokens of good will.

OBITUARY.

DEATH OF MRS. DUFFIELD.

With startling suddenness, Mrs. J. Duffield passed away at her home on Sunday evening about eleven o'clock from an attack of heart failure. The deceased was apparently enjoying very good health and had accompanied her husband to Calgary on the day previous and up to a few minutes before her death she was making plans for her children for their holidays. The deceased was in her 34th year and was the daughter of Mr. J. H. Sloane, of Ballycotton, Ireland. Eleven years ago she was united in marriage to Mr. Duffield, and during that time has resided in High River and Vulcan. In 1916 she accompanied her husband to England, while the latter was engaged in army service, and remained there until 1918, when the family returned to take up their residence here. The deceased leaves a husband and four children to mourn her loss and the deepest sympathy is extended to the afflicted family in their bereavement. The funeral was conducted by Rev. (Major) Walker the pallbearers being members of the Great War Veterans. Interment was made in High River Cemetery on Tuesday, July 8th.

Mr. J. J. Duffield is well known in Vulcan and vicinity and is at present a member of the Vulcan Advocate staff, who join in expressions of sympathy in his deep bereavement.

NEW ATTITUDE TOWARDS MEXICO.

Mexico's world-celebrated and non-stop revolutionary movement, we gather from the chorus of our editorial experts, is facing areas of depression that may bring it to an untimely end. Pancho Villa, it seems, was not wise in laying his course once more to the American border. Bullets whistled across into El Paso, affidavits were taken to prove that said bullets came from Villista rifles, and ten minutes after the order had been given 3,600 American troops were over the Rio Grande. Their return, after pursuing Villa's revolutionaries south of Juarez at the cost of some hundred Mexican casualties and a dozen American troops killed and wounded does not mean that the United States is prepared to stand an indefinite amount of further revolutionizing. "So far as the United States Government is concerned," telegraphs David Lawrence from Washington to the New York Evening Post, "officials generally are tired of what has been happening below the Rio Grande." He is convinced that sentiment in Washington, "in favor of protecting Americans on both sides of the boundary is growing stronger." Moreover, he says:

"The situation is being made plain to Mexico that America doesn't want to go into Mexican territory to pursue anybody, but unless the recognized Government of Caranza is capable of punishing the bandit leaders who have preyed on Americans inside and outside of Mexico, the Mexican government will have to bear the consequence of whatever policy of self-defense is determined upon. That's the way things are looking with respect to the Mexican situation."

THE NEGRO ENTERS THE LABOR UNION.

Not since the abolition of chattel slavery, says the New York Age, a leading Afro-American weekly, has any step been taken toward the industrial freedom of the race so important as that of the American Federation of Labor when it voted to open its doors unconditionally to the negro. This means that "all over the country the negro worker will have, as he has not had hitherto a chance to enter all of the skilled, and therefore better-paid, trades, and in them to be judged on his merits." It wipes out "the part of the color-line which most impeded the progress of the black race," which reminds us that colored wage-earners now constitute about one-seventh of our industrial population.

Because United States retailers are after Canadian lumber the Canadian wholesalers are putting up the price $2 per thousand feet to Canadian retailers. Just as if lumber has not been high enough.

THREE SALERS.
Three Sakers went sale-ing out into the West,
Out into the West as the sun rose high,
Each thought of the bargain that she would love best,
And wondered what marvels her money would buy.
For men must work, and women must spend,
Tho money is scarce, and no one will lend,
And the Bargain Sales be raging.
Three wives sat up in their bedroom dim,
And they turned up the gas as the sun went down,
They looked at fat parcels, and purses so slim;
And happily planned their next journey to town.
For men must work and women must spend,
Tho rain be sudden, and credit will end
And the Bargain Sales be raging.
Three husbands still gaze on the silks and lace,
In the morning gray when all hope has flown;
But the women are sleeping and dreaming in peace
Of a land where the sale-bills are never torn down.
For men must work, and women must spend,
And the sooner 'tis over, the sooner the end,
And good-bye to the sales and their raging.

Many farmers were disappointed to see the new moon come in as a "dry moon."

Many families from the district were well represented at the celebration in Vulcan last week and the races, ball games and free-for-all fights were enjoyed by the spectators.

A number of those interested in the Buffalo Sunday School picnic, which takes place on July 16th, held a meeting on Monday last and selected prizes for the numerous events.

Master Donald Speer was severely injured on Monday last when he was thrown from a car on his head. We are glad to hear that he is now recovering.

In selecting the tender for building the new barn the Buffalo school board decided in favor of Mr. H. Goldsmith, who is now at work on it.

On the morning after the celebration J. W. Morrison experienced certain difficulties in getting the car he was driving to start. Perhaps it was water on the spark plug, but some one has hinted that it was too much "sparking" at the celebration.

GENERAL NEWS.

The wheat crops of the United States this year may approach one-third of the world's total crop.

The Dominion celebrated its fifty-second birthday on July 1st. The city of Halifax recently passed its 170th birthday.

An international highway from Maine to the Pacific Coast is going to be opened and it will perpetuate the name of Theodore Roosevelt. As Mr. Roosevelt blazed many trails for others to follow the memorial is both fitting and suggestive.

Mr. Buchanan, the Lethbridge member in the Federal House, offered his resignation as whip to Premier Borden who declined to accept it, saying that "nearly every whip Liberal and Conservative has gone on record against government measures in the past and his action was not without precedent. He is still Unionist."

While plowing, a Wyoming farmer dropped waist deep into a barrel of whiskey someone had cached on his farm against the coming of the drought.

THE SOCIALIST PARTY SPLIT.

The unpopularity of Socialists, often noted, has now reached the point of rending the party apart and making two parties grow where only one grew before. In the cleavage the Bolshevik sympathizers are to be put out of the regular party until no "lefts," as they are called, are left. The recent expulsion of radical elements from the Socialist party membership by the National Executive Committee is looked upon by some as the start of a fight to settle whether the party "shall remain Socialist or shall become Bolshevik."
